

Diagram illustrating a complex circuit structure, likely a multi-stage logic or data path. The diagram shows a long horizontal bar at the top, representing a bus or data path, with various logic gates and flip-flops connected to it. The circuit is divided into several sections by vertical lines, suggesting different functional blocks or stages of processing. The diagram is oriented vertically on the page.